

The Danish Research Network of Occupational Scientists

Invitation to an occupational science seminar

Wednesday, December 18, 2019
at UCL Erhvervsakademi og Professionshøjskole,
Niels Bohrs Alle 1, 5230 Odense M,
Scenen (UCL biblioteket)
From 2.00 pm to 4.00 pm

The DRNOS is a network of Danish researchers currently engaged in occupational science research understood as an interdisciplinary academic discipline concerned with the study of humans as occupational beings as well as the relationship between human occupation, health and well-being.

The Danish Research Network of Occupational Scientists (DRNOS) happily invites you to our first occupational science seminar. The seminar is intended for scholars, teachers and practitioners with an interest in occupational science topics, concepts and/or theories.

Agenda (Chair: Stina Meyer Larsen)

- 2.00 – 2.10 Welcome by Professor Hanne Kaae Kristensen
- 2.10 – 2.40 Methodological Considerations About Exploring Meaning-making In A Dementia Village (Kamilla Kielsgaard)
- 2.40 – 3.10 Belonging as a dimension of Quality of Life (Hanne Peoples)
- 3.10 – 3.40 Occupation as a source of self-continuity in identity formation (Jesper Larsen Mærsk)
- 3.40 – 4.00 Questions and discussion

No registration required

Kind regards

Stina Meyer Larsen, Jesper Larsen Maersk and Hanne Kaae Kristensen

